

1 legislature is free to act, and this is true, certainly 2 it was true of consumer protection and conservation, but 3 in this instance you are granting a justicial right. You 4 are not simply stating a policy in the hope that the 5 legislature will do something.

6 If the legislature acts or if it does not you
7 have accorded someone the ability to effectuate a right.

8 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Lloyd Taylor.

9 DELEGATE L. TAYLOR: Delegate Bothe, when 10 you first started to make your speech you said something
11 about the volunteer servitude.

12 I would like to ask this question. Many 13 times when people are trying to organize and in order 14 to obtain higher wages, sometimes they are intimidated, and 15 many times fired by their employers. Would this par-
16 ticular right, if it was instituted, I mean included in 17 the Constitution, would it protect many employees from 18 being intimidated and possibly fired because they 19 sought to engage in collective bargaining?

20 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Bothe.

21 DELEGATE BOTHE: Certainly it would, because
